

Ross Bailey, MBA, B. Eng. Managing Director

Ross Bailey is a co-founder and Managing Director of Greenlight Innovation Corp. based in Burnaby BC. Canada. Ross has been leading Greenlight since its inception in 2008, overseeing the company's growth from 9 to over 300 employees.

Ross has over 25 years experience in fuel cells, hydrogen and testing from his previous work at Ballard Power Systems and Hydrogenics Corp., where he held a variety of technical and leadership roles. Ross also previously served as chairman of the Canadian Hydrogen and Fuel Cell Association.

With a degree in Mechanical Engineering from the University of Victoria and an MBA from Simon Fraser University, Ross holds a number of patents pertaining to fuel cell manufacturing and testing.